

Senses-based simile poems

Friendship
looks like a rainbow
sounds like happy music
smells like a cherry
tastes like sweets
feels like a soft pillow

written by D,
illustrated by C,

Friendship
looks like a birthday cake
sounds like laughter
smells like biscuits
tastes like watermelon
feels like a Pop-it toy

C,

eTwinning Friends (an acrostic poem)

Friends with students from other countries Readng about each other's cultures Inspiring one another through our project E-Twinning brings us together Nurturing our friendship Discovering new things Surprising each other with our creations.

written by st1
illustrated by C1

C1

Friends

(a cinquain poem)

friends
happy moments
caring, loving, helping
always there for you.
Company!

Friends

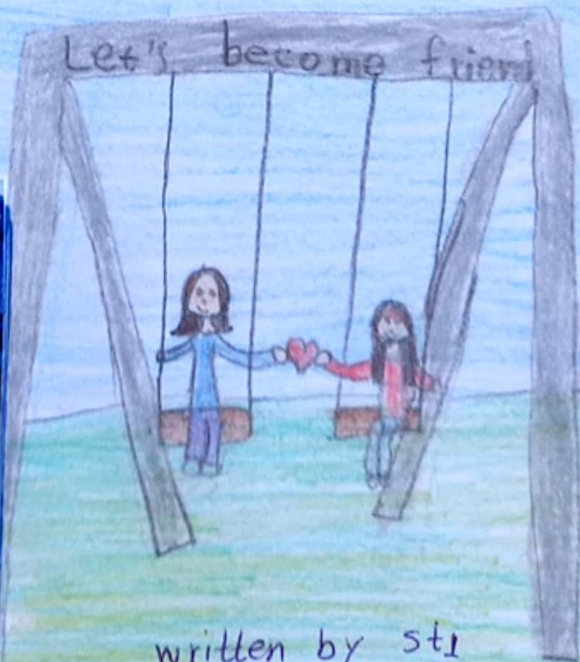

(Black poetry)

Most basic friends
build special,
strong relationships
and you feel
better.

Friends

(Black poetry)

Friends are fun
reliable and
make you feel
comfortable!

written by st1
illustrated by cl

G1

Friendship

(an acrostic poem)

Friends are always there for you Ready to travel with you If you are alone they will keep you company Everyone in this world needs a friend like you Nobody can hurt us when we are together Dance, sing and laugh with me Say sorry and I will forgive you Have fun and trust me
I am lucky to have a friend like you Pretty, unforgettable moments for a lifetime

written by st1
illustrated by c1

Friendship

(a senses-based simile poem)

Friendship looks like a gorgeous team sounds like kids' laughter smells like delicious strawberries tastes like sweet sugar
feels like a warm hug

Friends

(a senses-based poem)

watching movies at the cinema listening to music
smelling the flowers in the garden
eating homemade pizza
giving high-fives.
Oh, friends!

written by St1
illustrated by C1

Senses-based simile poems

Friendship
looks like roses
sounds like a melody
smells like cupcakes
tastes like marshmallows
feels like a comfortable sofa

Friendship
looks like tall trees
sounds like a nightingale
smells like flowers
tastes like berries
feels like a teddy bear

C1

written by D1
illustrated by C1