Tom is a little boy, who loves playing on the computer and discovering the world of the internet

One day he discovered a great video game online. He wanted to play. Without asking his parents he wrote his personal details and uploaded a picture of himself. Panagiota Vlouchou

One day, the screen of his computer takes him to a magical world.

Tom started the game and was happy to find that he quickly made many new friends. Someone actually asked how old he is and where he lives.

Of course, Tom didn't say how really old he was and also didn't say where he leaves, because he remembered the basic rule for safer internet: Never give our details to strangers! After he decided to stop talking to this person and opened the YouTube page and watched kid's songs and dances!

He loved the dance so much that he turned off the computer camera as his mom told him, got up from the chair and started happily twirling around the room to the rhythm of his favorite song!

As he danced happily, he heard a click and opened the computer camera. The voice offered him to enter an online contest with attractive prizes, and for that he needs a few pictures of him.

After he send the pictures, his adress was needed to get the prizes that he won at the games that he played online. So... the boy sent the adress as he sent the pictures.

Όταν ήρθαν οι φίλοι του και τους είπε τι είχε κάνει, του είπαν ότι ήταν Bu, sizin için çok önemli bir şey. Bu, sizin için çok önemli bir şey.

The friends advised him to talk to his parents and tell them exactly what had happened.

Tom decided to be around his parents every time he wanted to surf in the internet. This way he would be safe!

Tom learned that he can see things online that are not safe and that he always has to tell an adult about it .

He decided that in order to stay safe while playing games, he has to follow these rules:

1. I will ask my mom or dad before I play new games.
2. I will only talk to people I know in real life.
3. If I see something weird, I will tell a grown-up right away.
