

Georgios Jakobides

children's recital, 1884

INFORMATION on the Children's Recital

- This painting won the Golden prize at the International Exhibition in 1900 in Paris.
- The painting is exhibited at the National Gallery-Athens.
- This painting is an older variant of the 1894-1896 painting with a similar theme, but quite darker.

ANALYSIS of the children's recital

- There are 7 people; 1 baby, 1 woman, 1 girl and 4 boys.
- The main colours are yellow, orange and green.
- The instruments we can make out are a drum, a trumpet and a harmonica.
- The house is old.
- The people seem to be happy.
- Maybe there is a feast.
- The light is coming from the two windows.

"The worst birthday of grandmother Calliope."

the smoker, 1887

kou-kou

Georgios Jakobides

- Georgios Jakobides was born on January 11, 1853 in Eresos-Antissa, Lesbos, Greece and died on December 13, 1932, Athens, Greece.
- Some of his works are ; The Children's Recital, Spring, The First Steps, The Wife and Son of the Artist.
- He was a Naturalist..
- In Munich he lived for 17 years where he worked in his studio, painting mythological scenes and portraits following various styles.
- He was also a sculptor.

POETRY

Seven people are singing

Seven people are sitting

Playing the trumpet

As well as the tambourine

OMR OZONON

We like the "Children's recital"

because it expresses calmness, peace and happiness.

CHRISTINE TROUMOUCI
EFI LOIZOY
CHRISTINE KAFRITSA
VAGIA TRANTOY