

The Clumsy Easter Bunny

There was once a small, clumsy Easter Bunny. While painting the eggs he dropped the brush, or sometimes he got paint on his nose and his ears. He finally had a red nose, a yellow or a green ear, one blue and one white leg and a purple tail. All the other bunnies were laughing at him when they saw him, "Hahahaha, you've got a red nose," or "You've got a yellow ear!" they laughed. After finishing with the painting, the paint pot fell on the ground and there was a large colourful puddle. "Oh dear", cried the little bunny. And then he crashed onto the table and all the eggs that he had already painted, fell down into a colourful puddle. Fortunately the eggs were not broken, because the forest ground was soft with moss and grasses. Again, the other rabbits laughed at the poor little clumsy bunny, and he was crying for a long time. But when he started to put the eggs back into the basket, he saw that the eggs had become very beautiful in the colourful puddle. The eggs looked like a colourful rainbow. Small leaves and flowers were on some eggs and under their cover they remained white.

The other bunnies stopped laughing and were very quiet when they saw how beautiful the eggs were. They really admired those awesome eggs. On Easter Sunday the children looked for the Easter eggs and enjoyed the beautiful rainbow colours and the leaves and flowers prints on them. The little clumsy Easter Bunny was sitting behind a bush and smiled.
