DEAR PARENTS & TEACHERS

The purpose of a school English newspaper in Primary School is to provide specialized information to a targeted audience. A school newsletter can be a great way for the young learners to develop a strong relationship with the English language.

We use the school newspaper to keep parents apprised of major assignments and class events, upcoming events, as well as of any English attempts that the students are eager to share with a wider audience, such as their parents and their teachers. Last, but not least, an English newspaper gives the young learners the pleasure of accomplishing something genuine coming from their personal efforts to express themselves in the foreign language. The English language becomes a meaningful tool for them, and not just grammar rules and uncontextualised vocabulary.

LET'S MEET SOME OF OUR BEAUTIFUL PLACES IN GREECE

CORFU

The Mouse Island

The island of Corfu is beautiful and it is west-north of Greece. There is also a little island called Mouseisland. The Mouseisland is like a little forest. There is a little church on it. In Corfu it rains during the winter but there are some rains during the other seasons, as well.

The town has got the famous Achilleo, which is the palace where, the empress of Austria and queen of Hungary too, Sissy lived there. The empress herself named the palace Achilleo because she loved the ancient Greece. Here, there are some wallpictures and beautiful statues. The biggest of all is the statue of Achillea.

Also, there is a place called Cannon. There, you can enjoy a fantastic view of the Mouseisland and there is also a café where you can relax.

Another interesting place where you can visit is the old and the new fort. In the old fort you can go for a walk. Also, you can see cultural activities.

Opposite the old fort there is Spianada square, one of the biggest squares of Greece. It has got many-coloured flowers and relaxing places, as well.

Corfu is an island which everyone must visit.

KARDITSA

The location: This town is situated in the west of Greece. Karditsa is the capital of the municipality of Karditsa in Thesalia. It's a town where 100.000 people live.

The surroundings: In the town no one drives a car. Everybody rides a bike. In Karditsa, there are many lakes like Plastira's lake. In the winter in Karditsa it's snowing.

The town old and new: The old name of Karditsa was Thessaliotida. The new name comes from the word Kariditsa (little nut tree).

Zacharo

ZACHARO

Zacharo, the magic city that lies on the southwest coast of Iliia Ionian Sea side. The visitor can admire the natural beauty of the area and the longest sandy beach in Europe with crystal clear water. Escaping into the deep blue sea, promises to water sports lovers (and not only them) the largest center of water sports in Peloponnisos. Unique Kaiafa lake with its thermal springs is nestled in the beautiful countryside. It also provides world class water ski installations. Archaeological sites, old fashioned villages with rare customs and traditional museums and also intense night life are amongst the highlights of municipality of Zacharo.

AFRODITI VLACHOSOTIROU, E1'

KALAVRITA

The location: This town is situated in the south of Greece. It is a busy town where 10.000 people live. The town is built next to a train station. There is a square in the middle of the town.

The surroundings: Around the town there are high mountains. The mountains are full of snow in winter and this is why it is quite cold and wet.

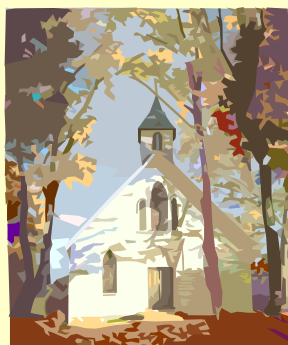

The town old and new: In Kalavrita there are houses of stones and tiles. There are a lot of shops, cars and an unusual small train called "ododotos". There are also some parks and big streets in the town. The town is mostly known for its historical events that occurred during the 1821 Revolution and the victims of World War II.

It is a beautiful place!!!

HOW WE CELEBRATE CHRISTMAS AND EASTER IN GREECE & CHRISTMAS IN ENGLAND AND AUSTRALIA

CHRISTMAS IN GREECE

Nowadays you'll find Christmas in Greece celebrated with lavish decorations and lights strung across most of the streets in major cities and towns. Christmas is one of the most important celebrations. Christmas Eve is the day when most things happen. From early morning, children prepare themselves to sing the carols. They go to all the houses of their neighbourhood. Christmas is a celebration 'for kids'. A week before Christmas in Greek houses you can smell all the spices that we put in the melomakarona or kourabiedes. Mothers cook lamb and turkey. But the beginnings of Christmas in Greece go back to the time of St. Nicholas. According to Greek tradition, his clothes were soaked with salt water, and his face is covered with perspiration. Even today there is still an old custom where many ships never leave port without a St. Nicholas icon carried in the boat.

We all love Christmas!

CHRISTMAS IN AUSTRALIA

Christmas in Australia is very hot because the temperature is 30 degrees Celsius.

Traditional meal includes a turkey dinner with bam and pork. A flaming Christmas plum pudding is added for dessert. In the Australian gold rushes, Christmas pudding often contained a gold nugget.

Some Australians, and particularly tourists, often have their Christmas dinner at midday on a local beach. Bondi Beach, in Sydney's Eastern Suburbs attracts thousands of people on Christmas day. If they are at home, the day is punctuated by swimming in a pool, playing cricket out the backyard, and other outdoor activities.

Carols by Candlelight is held every year on Christmas Eve, where tens of thousands of people gather in the city of Melbourne to sing their favourite Christmas songs. Christmas shopping is often done in shorts and t-shirts. At many beaches Santa Claus arrives on a surfboard, or even on a surf life saving boat.

KELLY ANTONATOU

EASTER IN GREECE

Easter is the most important celebration for the Greeks. Women dye eggs in red, godparents buy new shoes, clothes and a candle for the kids. In villages, the exterior of the houses is whitewashed.

During Good Friday, the Epitaphios is decorated with thousands of flowers. It is carried around the village or the neighbourhood in the big cities. The Epitaphios is followed by a slow procession. Everyone lights a candle for the dead. The Epitaphios with its procession returns to the church where the believers kiss the image of the Christ.

During the night of the Holy Saturday, everybody is dressed with nice clothes and goes to the church. Just before midnight, the priest turns off all the church's lights, symbolizing the darkness and the silent of the tomb. At midnight, the priest lights a candle from the Eternal. Flame sings "Christos Anesti" and passes the flame to one another. The church's bells ring continuously and people throw fireworks. People say "Christos Anesti" and reply "Alithos Anesti". People go home and share with their families the Ressurrection Meal which is consisted of Magiritsa, red eggs, Tsourekis and Easter biscuits.

Easter Sunday is a family celebration where all the family is gathered to have roasted lamb, various appetizers and a lot of wine and ouzo. Everybody dances and celebrates until late at night.

CHRISTMAS IN ENGLAND

The England has a special way of enjoying Christmas. They act out Christmas plays with mummers. Someone, called "father Christmas" dresses up in a long red or green and leaves the presents in the children's stockings. He delivers them the night before Christmas. The next day called "Boxing Day" is the day which the children collect money. The traditional dinner used to be corn, eggs, fruit, meat etc. Now, the traditional food consists of roast turkey, vegetables sakes and fruit for dessert "Boy Bishops" are selected to do some of the ecclesiastic duties, in the memory of Nicholas.

GREEK RELIGIOUS & HISTORICAL PERSONALITIES

KASSIANI

Kassiani's background

The real name of Kassiani was Kassia. She lived in the ninth century in Constantinople. She studied theology, philosophy and philology.

The dialogue of Emperor with Kassiani

The emperor saw the beauty of Kassiani and he asked her a question.

'Did the evil come from the women?' As she loved the god and the truth she answered bravely: 'Yes, but all the good things come from women'. Then the emperor went angry and he gave the golden apple to Theodora. This meant that he would marry her.

Kassiani became a nun

Kassiani was excited because she was free and she could serve the Christ. She became a nun. She built a church and she wrote beautiful hymns.

THE LEO III ISAVRIAN

Leo III Isavrian ruled the Byzantine from 25 March 717 to 18 June 741. Leo III was born in 685 a.d. in Syria, Germanikeia, and he died on 18 June 741.

His military work

1) The capital was threatened by the army and the fleet of Arabs, which was besieged for a whole year. Leo III then showed all the military and political skills, crushing forces and solving the Arab siege on 15 August 718.

2) Earlier he had weakened by two clever political maneuvers: the instigation of Christian Egyptians, who were in the army of Arabs and defected to the Byzantines, and the agreement with the Bulgarians, who slaughtered 20,000 Arabs.

3) Finally, in 740, he destroyed in Phrygia the army of the invading Arabs.

His pacific work

A) He reorganized the administration of the state.

b) He taxed the church property.

c) He forbade the veneration and worship of images. Several events created a commotion that took the shape of ecclesiastical controversy, called "iconoclastic" and even threatened the Byzantine Empire. For this reason, Leo was named "the iconoclast".

INTERVIEWS

I want to be a DANCER

My name is Georgia Drimala. I'm 12 years old and I live in Kolonos – Athens. I have a lot of hobbies. My favourite hobby is dancing. In order to be a good dancer you need some skills. You need to have good physical condition as well as good hand and leg coordination. Also, a good dancer needs to have good memory and to like sports.

Furthermore, being hard-working, cheerful and giving attention to details are some of the personal traits a good dancer needs.

Dancing has a lot of good working conditions, such as working on TV, on a stage or - even better - working at a dancing school.

Of course maths, gymnastics and languages are very important subjects at school for somebody to be a successful dancer. I like this job very much and I hope one day I will be a very good and famous one!

If you want to be a PHYSIOTHERAPIST

I want to be a FOOTBALLER

My name is Jim and I am 11 years old. My dream is to become a good football player. Of course, this is not very easy, because I have to work under pressure, quickly and be willing to work in a team. If I want to be a good player, I must have good physical condition, practise every day and work very hard. I must also be good at some school subjects, such as maths, foreign languages and P.E. I hope I will become the best football player in my area.

JIM PSARADELLIS, ST1'

you must have:

- ❖ attention to detail
- ❖ a cheerful attitude
- ❖ concentration
- ❖ finger and hand dexterity
- ❖ good hand-eye coordination

You must be good at:

- ❖ Physics
- ❖ Maths
- ❖ P.E.

You may work:

- ❖ in an office
- ❖ in a clinic
- ❖ shifts

SWIMMING

As recreation and exercise

The most common purposes for swimming are recreation, exercise, and athletic training.

As a competitive sport

The aquatic sport of swimming involves competition amongst participants to be the fastest over a given distance under self propulsion. The diffd '1500' free, and the '100', '200', and '400' Individual Medley, also known as the 'IM', which consists of all strokes in equal proportierent events include 50, 100, and 200 yards/meters in breaststroke, freestyle, backstroke and butterfly, the '50', '100', '200', '400', '800' anon, starting with butterfly then backstroke, breaststroke, and then freestyle. There are also medley relays, which combine strokes swum by four relay partners leading off with Backstroke, then Breaststroke, Butterfly, and Freestyle. In this, swimmers only swim one stroke, such as 100 yards (American) or meters of butterfly, while other swimmers take the other strokes. Medley relays are swum up to 400 meters, freestyle relays up to 800 meters, with each participant swimming an equal "leg" from the racing blocks. Regulation swimming pools are either 25 or 50 meters or yards across. Racing or training from one side to the other is known as a lap (one way), so a coach may say four laps in place of 100 yards/ or 200 meters.

Swimming has been part of the modern Olympic Games since inception in 1896. Along with the other aquatic disciplines of diving, synchronised swimming and water polo, the sport is governed internationally by the Fédération Internationale de Natation (FINA), and each country has its own National Governing Body (NGB) such as United States Swimming.

PABLO PICASSO

'GUERNICA' 1937

Pablo Diego José Francisco de Paula Juan Nepomuceno María de los Remedios Cipriano de la Santísima Trinidad Ruiz y Picasso known as Pablo Ruiz Picasso (Spanish pronunciation: 25 October 1881 – 8 April 1973) was a Spanish painter, draughtsman, and sculptor who lived most of his life in France. He is best known for co-founding the Cubist movement, and for the wide variety of styles that he helped develop and worked in. Among his most famous works are the proto-Cubist Les Femmes d'Alger (1911) and Guernica (1937), a portrayal of the German bombing of Guernica during the Spanish Civil War. Picasso demonstrated uncanny artistic talent in his early years, painting in a realistic manner through his childhood and adolescence; during the first decade of the 20th century his style changed as he experimented with different theories, techniques, and ideas. His revolutionary artistic accomplishments brought him universal renown and immense fortune, making him one of the best-known figures in 20th century art.

SALVADOR DALI

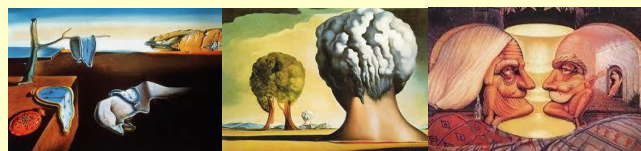

Salvador Domingo Felipe Jacinto Dalí i Domènech, Marquis of Dalí de Púbol (May 11, 1904 – January 23, 1989), commonly known as Salvador Dalí, was a prominent Spanish Catalan surrealist painter born in Figueres.

Dalí was a skilled draftsman, best known for the striking and bizarre images in his surrealist work. His painterly skills are often attributed to the influence of Renaissance masters. His best-known work, The Persistence of Memory, was completed in 1931. Dalí's expansive artistic repertoire includes film, sculpture, and photography, in collaboration with a range of artists in a variety of media.

Dalí attributed his "love of everything that is gilded and excessive, my passion for luxury and my love of oriental clothes" to a self-styled "Arab lineage," claiming that his ancestors were descended from the Moors.

Dalí was highly imaginative, and also had an affinity for partaking in unusual and grandiose behavior. His eccentric manner and attention-grabbing public actions sometimes drew more attention than his artwork to the dismay of those who held his work in high esteem and to the irritation of his critics.

A SUDDEN VISIT FROM OUTER SPACE

Last night Freddy was taking his dog, Jack, out for a walk. The night was calm and quiet and the sky was clear. The stars were shining and Freddy was gazing at them.

Suddenly, he saw a flashing light in the sky. He thought it was a star, so he kept on walking. However, the truth was different. A U.F.O. appeared in the sky and the spaceship landed on earth. Aliens started getting off the spaceship and when Freddy saw them he fainted. They took him to their planet Mars, and made him a king, because they had never seen such a strange creature before, so they thought he was special. They gave him lots of presents and a huge crown. Everybody loved him and they were ready to do whatever he asked them to. He felt very happy and pleased, so he wanted to stay there forever.

Then, he felt that his cheek was wet and he heard a dog barking at him. He woke up and he realised that he was lying in the middle of the road wearing a shining crown. Nobody knows if his sudden trip to Mars was real or just a dream!

ATTENTION, PLEASE! OUR END – OF – SCHOOL NEWS!

We have asked all the teachers of our school to find out what celebrations will happen before the school ends.

First of all, sports! Our P.E. teacher, Mr. Dimitris is going to organize various sport activities and games, such as: 'fireman' and others.

Second, Mr. Spiros, our music teacher, and the pupils of ST1' & ST2' are going to sing a Greek song and an English song, 'Yesterday' by the Beatles, along with Mrs. Antonia, the English teacher. This effort will be recorded and distributed to the pupils of ST1' & ST2' as something to remember after leaving Primary School.

Third, our computer science teacher, Mr Giannis, is organizing a clip, in which there will be pupils talking about their classmates.

Our German teacher, Ms Joanna, is going to show a notebook with projects on countries, such as Germany, Austria and Switzerland that pupils of our school have worked on.

Last, but not least, Ms Virginia, our favourite theatre teacher, and ST1' and ST2' are going to present a theatrical activity that the students themselves have created throughout the school year.

ENJOY YOURSELVES!!!
