

A soldier's experience

By Anastasia Brown, Markelena Blunt, Katerina Quinn, Joanna Radcliffe

“As a soldier in 54 BC, with Julius Caesar’s army, we invaded Britain. With a force of 30,000 men, 2,000 cavalry, and 628 ships, we attacked the Celts but they were not prepared for the battles. Some ethnic people paid us so as not to injure them. But we had to leave because there were many problems in France. We invaded Britain for metals, silver in the western country, gold in the Welsh mountains. It was a very stressful and difficult invasion but it ended successfully.”

<https://www.google.com/url?sa=i&url=https%3A%2F%2Fwww.lookandlearn.com%2Fblog%2F24866%2Fjulius-caesar-successfully-invaded-britain-the-second-time-in-54-bc%2F&psig=AOvVaw1s-NrZSTHamg97jtz1CLf8&ust=1668605975153000&source=images&cd=vfe&ved=0CA0QjRxqFwoTCMiBreensPsCFQAAAAAdAAAAABAS>