Dear Captain Tsarouchas and Crew of the Seapassion,

We hope you are fine. We are so excited about our communication. We are really sorry for not having sent an email to you for so long but we were really busy at school because of some other educational programmes. Also, we have started our Christmas decorations and we are super happy!

We are thankful for your answers as they are quite informative. Not to mention the photos taken from the bridge as well as the wonderful sunset!

Now, here are our next questions:

- 1) Where are you right now? Could you give us the exact longitude and latitude of your vessel, please?
- 2) Are there any women on board? If any, which are their responsibilities?
- 3) What would you say to a child who wants to be a captain?
- 4) Is being a captain a difficult job? Why / why not?
- 5) Has it always been your dream to become a captain? What urged you to choose your profession?
- 6) What skills should a captain have and which one is the most important?
- 7) Have you ever been in an emergency situation while you were on board?

We can't wait for your reply. This time most of our questions focus on the captain but next time, we will also be interested in learning about the crew members, too. We would appreciate it if you could send us more photos especially from the inside where you spend your time or work. Stay safe on your voyages!

Best regards,

The 6th Grade Students and Teachers
