

What Etwinning offers to me.....

Etwinning is a challenge for me.

It is a challenge for doing innovating and alternative teaching methods. To know new persons and interchange ideas. If we have interpersonal relatives (with our pupils, colleagues and students, colleagues from the other school) we can be more multicultural in our opinion.

By etwinning I may have new knowledge. I have the opportunity to develop myself. As I teach Chemistry and I am also Counselor of Career Orientation, I haven't studied any Information Technology at University, so I learn a lot doing Etwinning Program. Having only basic learning on it, I have also learnt how to create web sites and Blogs. Another positive point is that I have a good practice in the communicating language. When I am involved in such activities I feel always happy because of the creation and offer I do.

Working together with my pupils and discovering new paths of knowledge is a great pleasure for me too.
