

Poem by Amanda and Lisa Candice

found by Phillip Kalatzis

Our lives are filled with color from the start

And red is the love that comes from our hearts.

Blue is the sadness that drips from our eyes

But black is the evil that makes us tell lies.

Green is the shade of jealousy and rage

And grey is the hair that comes with old age.

Purple is the mood most misunderstood

But white is the color that makes us feel good!

Life is full of meaningful colors

Especially white

So, hold on to it, tight!