Announcer I

We would like to welcome the representatives of the local authorities, students and teachers from our school, parents, and, especially warmly, the seniors from the University of Third Age invited to today's ceremony.

Announcer II

Today we want to take you on a journey in the footsteps of our extraordinary adventure. And we have travelled many roads. Both in the fascinating places of Greece, Italy and Poland, and on the paths of three different cultures. Above all, however, we have taken - in keeping with the theme of the project - an extraordinary and exciting journey through the world of theatre - from its ancient Greek roots, through its Roman heritage, right up to the richness of Polish theatre

Announcer I

We return from this journey through the 'theatre of life' more sensitive to beauty, enriched with invaluable knowledge and language skills, more open to the world, other people and foreign cultures, and above all with a baggage of not only thousands of photos, but above all unforgettable memories and friendships. That is why we made the motto of our assembly the words I came. I saw. I fell in love.

The implementation of our project was divided into three parts:

1. From Antiquity to Here and Now
2. Italian theatre routes
3. Inclusion is a Challenge

Announcer II

Today's meeting is a special occasion to share our experiences and the results of our activities, to let you taste the uniqueness of three cultures and to present a substitute of our theatrical experiences and, above all, beautiful emotions and memories. Let a song performed by our school artists, resounding with the words of the Greek philosophy "Seize the day", be a beautiful invitation to this journey.

A song „Seize the day”

Announcer I

The first part of our trip will be the world of Greek theatre and culture. A presentation of photographs will take us into the extraordinary atmosphere of our journey.

We now invite young people from the partner school in Itea, who will show us, with incredible Greek expression and energy, a substitute of their culture and customs.

The next destination on the map of our journey was stunning Rome. Welcome to the land of extraordinary theatre and art of the Eternal City.

The Italian youngsters prepared for us an excerpt from the touching story of a wooden puppet whose homeland is Italy. This iconic Italian character is, of course, Pinocchio. Let us have look and enjoy.

The final point of our theatrical journey and the one after the theatre of life is our beautiful Poland... Enjoy a few frames from the Polish journey we made in the autumn aura of the past days.

And now - to mark our Polish cultural richness as well - a piece of Polish tradition and customs. Now we are going to see a well-known traditional dance, followed by Slavic notes in the original interpretation of our school vocalists. So.... IT IS TIME TO START POLONAISE !

- polonaise
- Slavic song

Announcer I

Although the Polish theatre does not have such a rich and beautiful history as the Greek and Roman theatre, it also delights us with its depth and values, and has its own interesting history which we wanted to show to our Italian and Greek friends. We would therefore like to invite you to a theatrical performance of the works of Adam Mickiewicz by our school actors.

Announcer II

We would like to thank the artists from all the partner schools and their tutors for this extraordinary artistic journey. We regret to say that it is coming to an end.

The crowning glory of our celebration will be a concert by the school choir of the M. Skłodowska-Curie High School in Ostrzeszów under the baton of Mr Stanisław Sztukowski. Please join us on stage.

Announcer I

Let the words of the final song "We are the world, we are its children" be the beautiful message of our multicultural journey through the history of theatre.

There will now be a presentation of certificates to the project participants. Welcome to the stage.....

1. The headmaster of Maria Skłodowska – Curie High School in Ostrzeszów - Mr Michał Błoch
2. The authors and coordinators of the project - Ms Anna Błoch and Ms Małgorzata Domagalska.
3. All project participants and their carers.

Announcer II

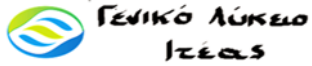

And it is so hard to part... Today's gala is coming to an end, and so is our peregrination through the theatrical "Theatre of Life". What will remain, however, is a baggage of experiences, invaluable lessons, unforgettable memories and emotions, and most of all -...

"A journey is better measured in new friendships than in miles travelled - because they will stay with us.

Thank you all very much
