All children are equal and must be protected from discrimination based on race, colour, gender, language, religion, origin and beliefs.

The most important text on children's rights is the International Convention on Rights of the Child. All children in the world have the same rights. The most important of these are food, medicine and medical care, the right to water and education. Parents should take care of them their children and provide them with all the necessities they need after they have taken over their upbringing. Also parents before making decisions for their child should first consider the best interests of the child. If not provided and secured all the beat some kid, then he'll never have a good time and his life will never be the same of the other children.

We believe that social equality and social justice are important values and must exist in all countries and be protected by all Countries.

Kids with special needs

In our school there are many kids with special needs so we often celebrated the most important days about disabilities doing some kind of activities: games, exhibitions, films, discussions and storytelling. Last 1st March we organized the "Care's Day". We took care of Infant School's children. We read stories and acted them.
