Dear Alex,

It's been a while since I last heard from you. How have you been?

As for me, I've decided to spend a month of my summer holiday doing volunteer work in Moria Refugee Camp, on the island of Lesbos.

As you already know, Greece is home to a fluctuating population of thousands of immigrants fleeing war and persecution. The main goal of this programme is to improve the lives and material wellbeing of people living and staying in Lesbos. Moreover, it helps them reunite with lost members of their families and connects them with organizations which can assist them in building a more secure future.

I remember you expressing your concern and sympathy for the situation in which those people have found themselves in and your interest in doing something useful for them. Therefore, I find this is a great opportunity for you to join me in this trip. We'll both have the chance to help those in need, while at the same time work with people from around the world, as volunteers come from various countries. We'll also develop skills, such as collaboration, sharing, respect and observation. Last but not least, we'll see how humanitarian organizations work, something you have always wanted to be a part of. Hope you will join me after all!

Write back soon!
