

Christmas is coming...

From one end of Greece to the other, the neighborhoods are filled on Christmas and New Year's Eve by the voices of children singing carols and proclaiming the joyful news of the birth of Christ. The housewives prepare with great joy the Christopsomo, the blessed bread, Christmas and the New Year's cake with the coin for the lucky one of the evening.

The house has already smelled of kourabiedes and melomakarona that adorn the dining room along with the Christmas tree that shimmers in the dark. In Greece we love and honor the christmas celebration. That's why everything suggests that Christmas is what you've always dreamed of. The Christmas of your heart!

Elina Lazari

Andriana Makri