

LONDON

London is continually recognised as one of the world's most cosmopolitan and culturally diverse cities. With a population of over 8 million, London boasts over 300 languages and is home to more than 270 nationalities. The buzz and atmosphere that such diversity brings, is what makes London the fantastic world city it is today

London is also one of the most diverse cities in the world. The city hosts people from Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic backgrounds, women, LGBTQI+, disabled groups and people from socio-economically disadvantaged backgrounds.
